Head Master's Message

BCS: Where learning lives and leaders grow

I love this tagline that the school has adopted. The reason I like it so much is that it profoundly reflects my experience at BCS over the last three years.

We have worked hard to enroll strong advantage of the opportunities athletics and activities. In 10 of the school qualified. More than 80% and 26% made the or over. Our students take

Their reward is the job they do, and the satisfaction they derive from the opportunity and experience.

As a result, I am proud to say that I believe BCS is the place where learning lives and leaders grow. What I find compelling about this statement is that it is in the present tense, it is active and it is aspirational.

Lastly, I would like to thank the Board for the opportunity to manage the school for the past three years. It has been challenging and rewarding, and I am grateful for the encouragement and support that I have received from the school community.

I look forward to observing the growth of the school and the leadership of Tyler Lewis who is exceptionally well prepared to lead the school at this time.

Mr. Mitchell attended BCS from 1954-1963.

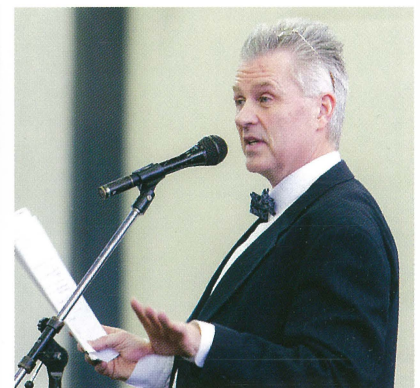

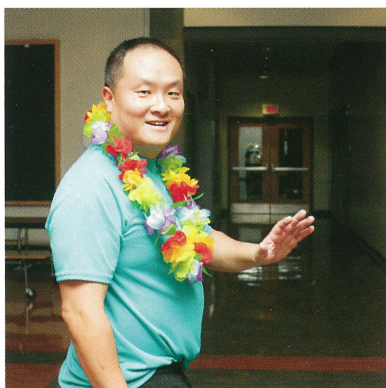

As these pictures demonstrate, he contributed immensely to school life, both as an athlete and as a student leader.

Gillard House is always full of love, laughter and comradery. With 32 girls from Form II to Form VII, Gillard overflows with energy and personality. Here's a glimpse at some of our predictions for the years to come:

Haya: Most likely to marry the Mivan Pizza delivery guy for free pizza
 Sam: Most likely to wake up Justine with her snoring
 Emma: Most likely to be found in Sam & Justine's room after lights out
 Gaby: Most likely to be blaring Latino music in the upstairs common room
 Dana: Most likely to become a tumblr girl
 Fiona Zhang: Most likely to be watching anime
 Kaitlin: Most likely to get accepted to Harvard in Form V
 Pan: Most likely to miss something because she's sleeping
 Diana: Most likely to be skyping at 4am
 Zoe: Most likely to obsess about pinas (pineapples) and Mexican food
 Sabrina: Most likely to be the loudest person in the house
 Alessandra: Most likely to get caught watching Netflix during prep
 Violetta: Most likely to have a concussion
 Evangeline: Most likely to succeed
 Fiona Dale: Most likely to become a hair dresser
 Alice: Most likely to be eating all day long
 Majo: Most likely to become a selfie queen
 Jocelyn: Most likely to be dancing in her room
 Fer: Most likely to be the most secretive
 Izzy: Most likely to write the next great Canadian novel while gated
 Renan: Most likely to teach the whole house to speak Turkish
 Justine: Most likely to obsess over the weekend
 Malin: Most likely to be found in the infirmary
 Jessica: Most friendly and cute
 Jaiyue: Most likely to be perfect
 Aliyah: Most likely to run a cross country race with no shoes
 Frida: Most likely to become Miss Mexico
 Sofia: Most likely to care about everyone else
 Rosa: Most likely to be eating chips
 Krystal: Most likely to talk about upcoming exams
 Catherine: Most likely to become an artist
 Jacey: Most likely to marry her high school sweetheart
 Megan: Most likely to make ginger tea for the whole house during flu season
 Georgia: Most likely to be making noises in chapel
 Mrs. Carey: Most likely to prepare caramel corn for the entire house

Naomi: Most likely to be in a hair commercial.
Rebe: Most likely to offer people candy and food.
April: Most likely to be with Seven.
Maria: Most likely to be studying (then get a 95% on the test).
Nicola: Most likely to be the next Picasso.
Taylor: Most likely to be at the gym, getting ripped.
Romy: Most likely to sew a dress in four hours.
Also, a shoutout to our honorary Glass Girls: Sarah, Meghan, and Hannah.

To all the girls coming back next year, we can't wait to see you again. To all those that are leaving us, we wish you the best of luck wherever life may take you.

To Julie, our loving houseparent, thank you for taking us in and becoming our second mom. We couldn't have asked for anyone better.

This year has been very successful for Ross Girls! Their competitive nature in academics, athletics and extra-curricular activities has truly paid off. Everyone in this group of girls has accomplished great things in the 2014-2015 school year, and still managed to end the year in great style. We imagine that this will be similar in the future.

Here's what we think this year's Ross Girls will be doing in 20 years:

Now

Fiona: iPad Girl Gamer#1
 Alyzee: iPad Girl Gamer #2
 Edith: Renowned BCS actress
 Jessica: Robotics genius
 Emma A.: MVP for all sports

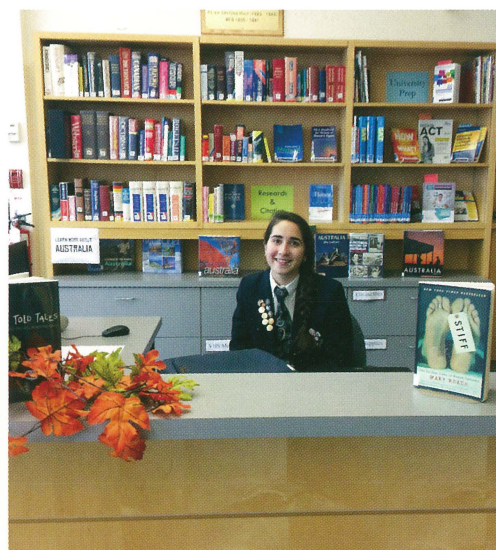

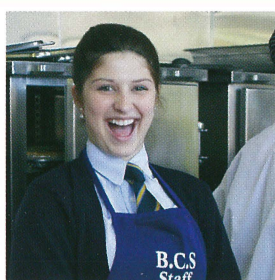

Emma C.: On-Campus Carnival enthusiast
 Maia: Prettiest smile
 Julia: Makes 3-pointer without missing

Kyla: Fashion icon at BCS
 Emily: Choreographs BCS dances
 Laury: Most contagious laughter
 Sabrina: Wrestles bear to ground in Outward bound
 Hanna: Fear of public speaking
 Michelle: Best voice in choir
 Dana: Graduates top of class
 Marie: At-school therapist
 Romy: Sets trends at BCS
 Elizabeth: Spirit leader at BCS rugby games
 Catherine: Travels Canada for BCS rugby
 Tanya: Gets into NYADA

In 20 Years

Runs a Youtube gaming channel
 Runs a Youtube gaming channel with Fiona

This year in South

Peter: Schemeder, tuck master of the year, possible opponent for Mexicans at FIFA. Maple leafs fan. To be remembered as the one to pull the emergency shower in the science department.

Aidan: Iron Maiden leprechaun of South since 2014, Japanese roommate included. To be remembered as the best hockey goalie this house has ever seen, oh, and the fastest runner.

Abdul: "The President", but do not let his appearance trick you, he surely is an extremely funny guy. To be remembered as the one who would have given free pizza to whoever asked.

Daniel: Habs fan, taking fandom to the next level. To be remembered for his silly arguments with the TODs that gave everyone a good old laugh.

Emiliano: Always hungry and hot and with the body of an 18 year old. To be remembered for his speakers always at maximum volume that could be heard a mile away.

Rodrigo: El Tigre (the tiger), in his man cave most of the time. To be remembered for his peculiar animal noises that made us laugh.

Sebastian: Always in conflict with Marcelo... (Always wins). To be remembered as the one with the roommate of untameable Daniel.

Marcelo: Running around the house startling people. To be remembered as the one with the best noodle eating abilities one would have ever seen.

Yuqi: "Aiden put your music down", mathematical slave. To be remembered as the GTA V leader of the house as well as our "Japanese" ambassador.

Jeff: Common phrase: "My name is Jeff!", "What!?", "rrrrrrrrr", repeat that 100 times and you have Jeff. To be remembered as the background character of south.

Nikita: "Artist", stocking enough food supplies to fill a bottomless camping bag. To be remembered for his long gaming weekends.

Chavez: Aka: Nicest guy in the world, house favourite, and best friend of everyone... Oh also a really messed up laugh and rugby prodigy. To be remembered for having so many good things to say but very little space to say it.

Blake: "Prep starts at 9 for me". To be remembered as the kid who would either be out most of the time or watching 9gag on the toilet.

Noah: Talking about Adam, hockey and other stuff... No forget it, only that. To be remembered as the hockey pro of Grier South.

Luis: The one who roams the thin line between schoolwork and party. To be remembered as a huge Real Madrid fan... Good luck with that!

Javier: "El abuelito" (the grandpa). To be remembered as the one that yells: "I'm next" when he sees people playing FIFA.

Nico: 3 years at South! I think it's time to move out of the basement! Montoya awaits you next year. To be remembered as the best French boy of South.

Rodrigue: Mythical being, very few people know what his room looks like. To be remembered as the best Mexican house captain of the year... The only one.

Bobby: Bing! Bing! Aka: the boy in the tiger striped pyjamas. To be remembered for his fashion choices and his kindness of donating food to everyone. Oh and his innocent silence of course!

Pablo: Also know as the "El Maestro" (the master) or "Pabes". To be remembered as: The stand-up comedian of South! The one who would cheer you up to do stupid things and the one who wouldn't be scared of dancing like a fish in front of the whole school.

Mr. St-Amant: A being to be feared of, especially when the Rangers lose. To be remembered for his hockey arguments with Daniel.

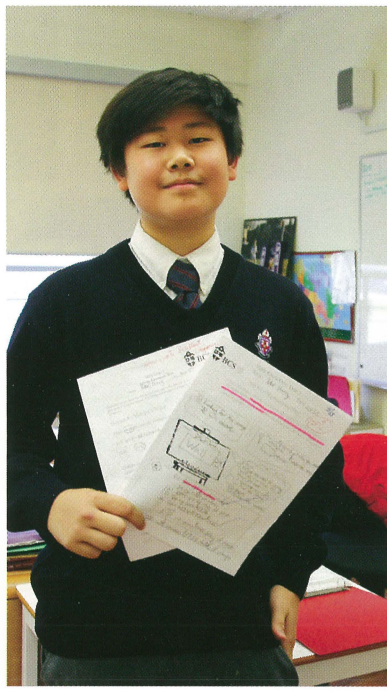

Tyler: "Knock it off!", to be feared by messy rooms. To be remembered for his fedoras and his immortal quote "Knock it off!".

Joe: Papa Joe, can be your bestfriend or your worst nightmare. To be remembered for his chess skills and his Schwarzenegger impersonations with Pablo.

Mrs. Bray: Walking into the common room when the weirdest things would happen. To be remembered for handling 20 crazy boys.

Mr. Bray: To be remembered for his BBQ cooking skills and pep talks for events.

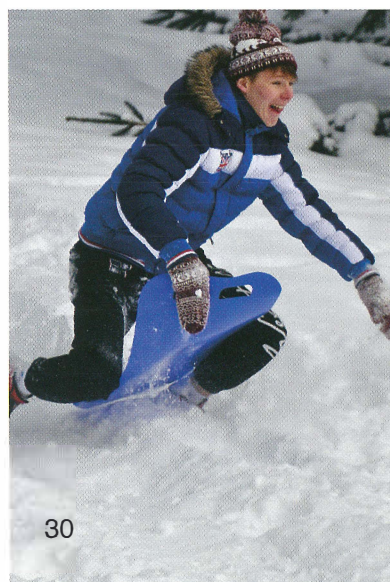

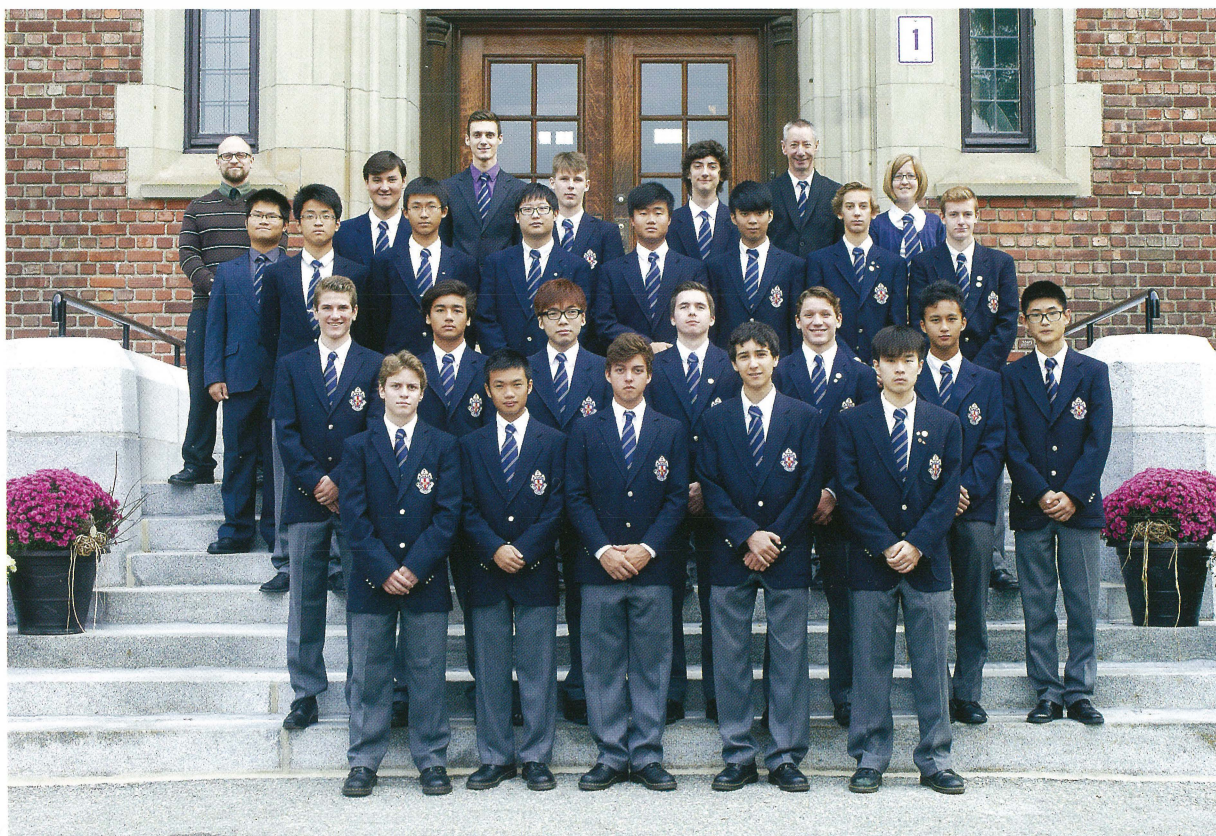

Grier South: Home of the 20 craziest boys of the school. To be remembered as the bonding place for everyone. Starter of never ending friendships, and for always having food. Bringing the best out of everyone and also showing the true potential of people.... and out of everything, it was our home. Where a huge family lived here and home should never be forgotten.

Grier North

First Row: D. (T.) Johnston, K. (J.) Lai, N. Molina McLeod-Britton, A. Khamid, X. (T.) Zhu
Second Row: N. Cormier, T. Espagnol, K. (I.) Hung, M. Halde, T. Beauparlant, K. (M.) Leung, Y. (H.) Zhao
Third Row: T. (M.) Zhang, H. (E.) Zhang, H. Cheng, B. Li, T. Chou, L. St-JeanB. Adams
Fourth Row: Mr. Morimoto, D. Saldana, D. Maximenko, L. Cassier, Ms. Rowell
Fifth Row: Mr. Brandon, Mr. Paternoster, Mr. Hopkins
Absent: D. Lochbuehler

Ahem...: Mr. Dominic, winning our first award. Please accept the "Mad Because the Rangers Lost" Award. Wait Dominic, don't be mad, it's a joke. Dominic... Dominic. Please come back to the podium Dominic... Okay, I guess we'll save this for later.

Next, please welcome Maurice! Come on up to the podium to accept our "Sleeping in Chapel... or Anywhere Else" Award! Hey, Maurice! Come on down!... Maurice? Can someone please wake Maurice up?

Cormier, stop studying and go wake him up... Okay, in the meantime, we'll entertain you with some fun facts! Did you know that more than half of Grier North isn't Asian! Or that Jacky has the nicest roundest head at BCS.

Also, never, ever, ever in this house will you ever find a spoon! Seriously guys, stop taking the spoons! We need them to eat Marcus's food. Not big Harry though, he bought every single tuck item.

"Uh, Mr. Hopkins, when's our next house dinner?" asks Isaac, for the 3rd time today. He sure loves his house dinners.

Here at North we like our sinks un-clogged. Fishing food out of a sink with your hands is not the ideal way of spending a Friday night. Ask Ben, he's one of the good guys, he knows! Strangers, stop dumping your food in our sinks, you know who you are.

Speaking of sanitation, we have Edward and Theo's room! Visiting this room without a gas mask is not recommended.

Little Harry will be found walking around sparsely dressed. This is normal, don't worry.

No one will forget Daniil blasting music throughout the house at 8 o'clock on Saturday morning: "If I can't sleep-in because of crease, then no one can - Communism boys!".

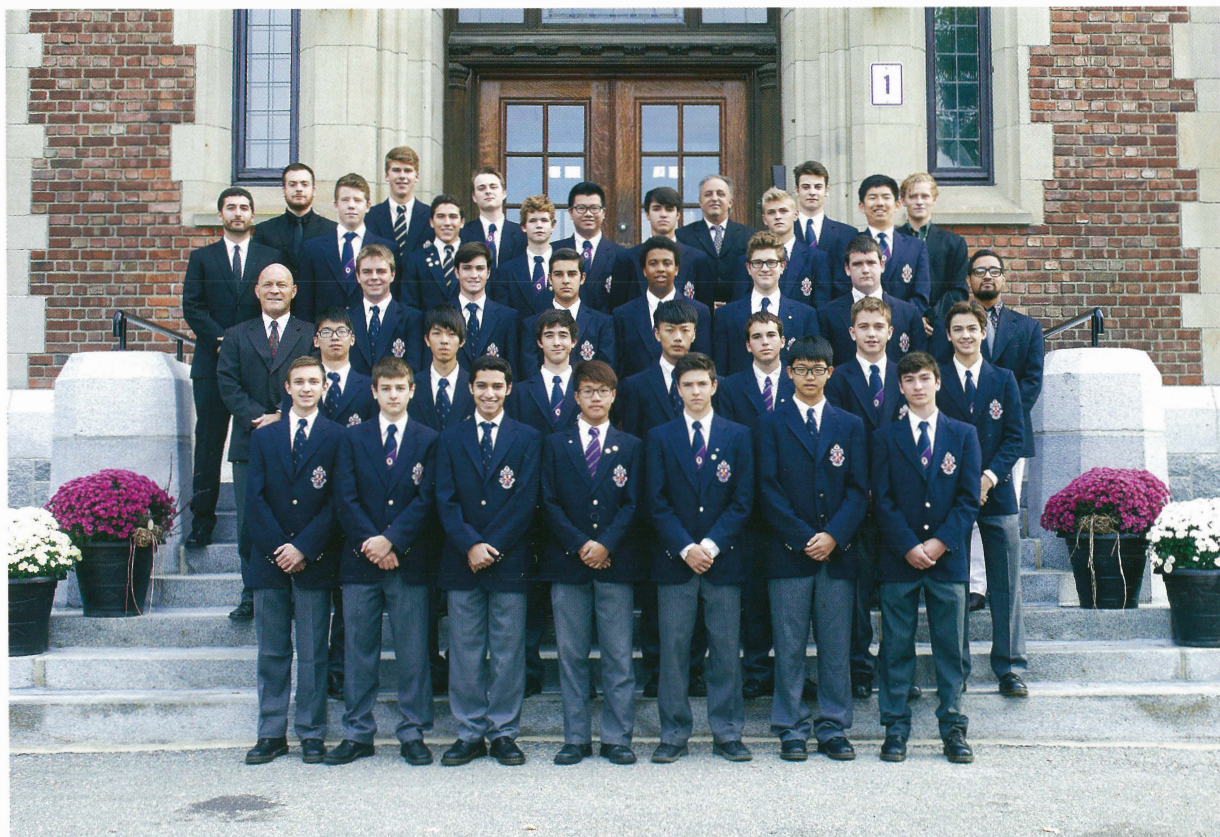

What's that I hear? Don't be alarmed: The violent, high-pitched, grunting sounds from the top floor is only Max, Todd the Frog, Louis and Tybo going at it hard. Wrestling, that is. But what didn't we go hard at! Ah, there was one thing: Carnival. We somehow managed to lose every single. Good hustle out there boys. But we played fair and enjoyed every minute. We loved it.

We did, however, also get some pretty sick jackets that everyone is totally jealous of. "Fashion is my passion!" says Nick M. as he yells from the hallway, which is basically where he lives. "Riperino in Pepperino", shouts Leon with another couple of invented worderinos, as he loses in chess against Diego for the 30th time. Shout-out to Mr. Hopkins, the best houseparent, and the only man who can truly work socks, sandals, and a bucket hat all at the same time.

This is Grier North, our home. We love it.

Williams or not?

I just can't believe it, in a few days it will be my second time leaving BCS and Williams House. I graduated last year in Form 6 to go through CEGEP. I eventually realized that there was no better place for me than back at BCS. When everything was settled down, houses were almost set and I phoned Mr. D to see if he had room. He said that I was a Williams's boy and belonged in this house. So I came back to find a few old friends and a bunch of rookies.

I was happy to see Nick, for a fourth year. He started the year by a house initiation, lots of laughters to set the bonding seeds. His door remained opened for support but he was a bit busy with his prefects. Then there was Gary (Garins). Living in his own time zone, in his bed or cooking, Gary became a famous character in the House. Just ask him about black socks!

Then there were the rookies. Of course Williams had inherited some Grier South transfers amongst which William: famous for his tuck purchases (William had the best) and for bugging Mr. D about history questions, and his sidekick Huakun, who steadily practiced piano. We think it was all to win Elaine's heart.

Now let's see about the real rookies. First there were two Russians. Rida, who tested the School rules in the first week to become a real trustworthy guy and Amir, who had to take the honours of being a top swimmer to keep the tradition on.

There were also Mexicans: Mariano, who could not be on the effort list all year long but showed us how to be sick, and Sebastian who was always around a lovely German girl. We had also some Quebecois. Josh was our official hockey player and Ludovic (nicknamed kangaroo) were there to spice up conversations, sometimes with specific French words!

The House had to be more international. We had Eason, a Chinese guy who tried hard to play hockey, but was given incredible skills as a basketball player. We had Javier, from Spain, effort list all year, pretty face that was never matched up, regardless of the efforts to find him a girl.

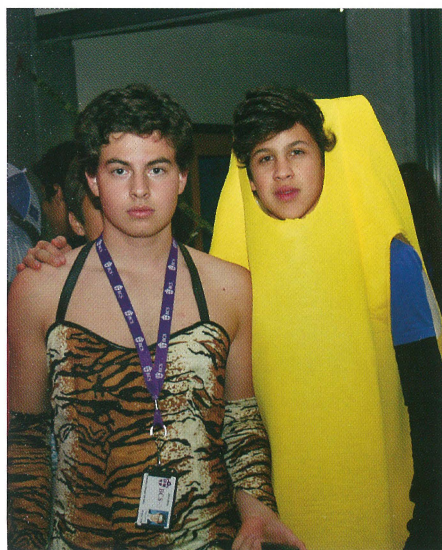

There was a workaholic; every house has one; in Adrian, from Bahamas, who became a very good lad, especially after some cracked jokes.

The House could not be completed without my brother Will, passionate in almost everything, a strong voice in the House, surely showed the rookies how to become a proper Williams House boy.

The magic bunch was also under the control of Mr. Rae, Mr. Byrne, Mr. Szathmary and gamer Jr. D who helped flourish our gang of brothers.

Williams forever, and may barbeques stay as a tradition for the future Williams House boys.

Activities & Trips

Orientation Day- September 3

Mountain Day - September 4

BCS students not only demonstrate their strength and perseverance, but build friendships and school spirit during the annual climb of Mont Orford.

Cadet Camp - September 6- 7

The entire student body heads to the Canadian Forces Base in Val Cartier, QC for 2 days of outdoor activities designed to introduce students to the goals, opportunities and ideals of the BCS Cadet Program.

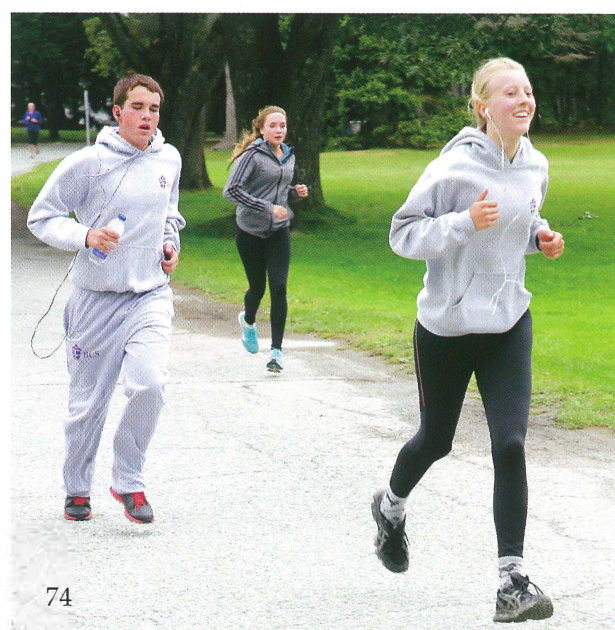

Terry Fox Run - September 14

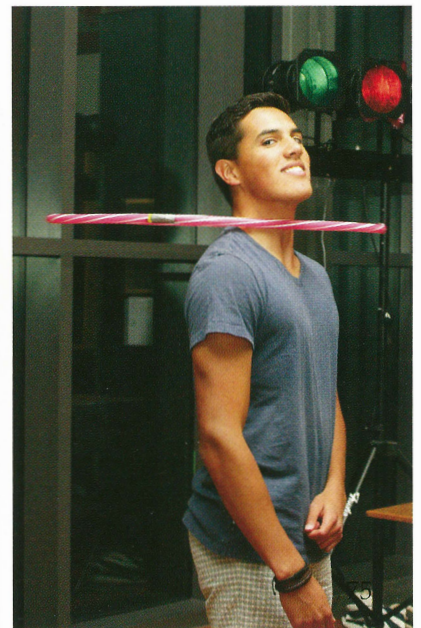

BCS hosts the annual Terry Fox Run for the Lennoxville community. This year over 400 participants joined us to run, walk or bike in order to raise awareness and funds for cancer research. Thanks to staff and students, BCS was able to donate a total of $7,066.20 to the Terry Fox Foundation.

Carnival - February 3-5

Day 2:

More inter-house competition starting with The Great Race, followed by outdoor games like snow soccer, dodge ball and ultimate frisbee.

When we get cold we head inside to warm up with bubble ball or work on designing house flags. Ice dance and lip sync competitions keep us busy into the night.

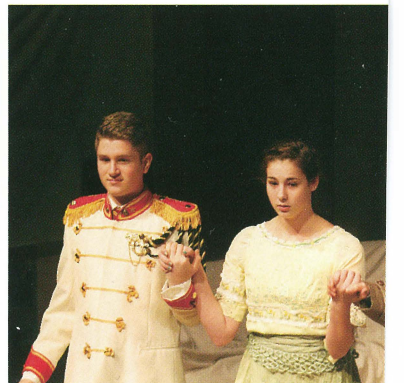

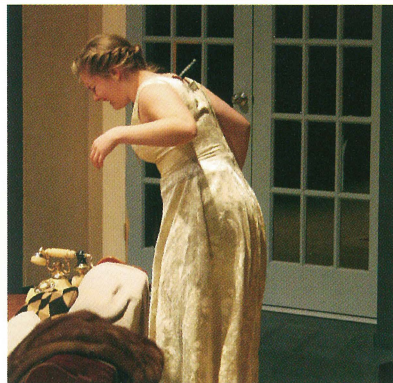

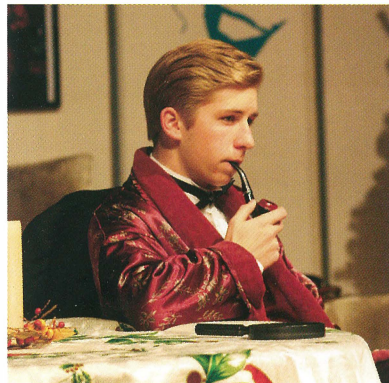

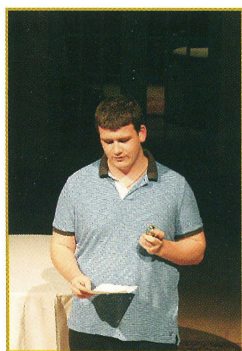

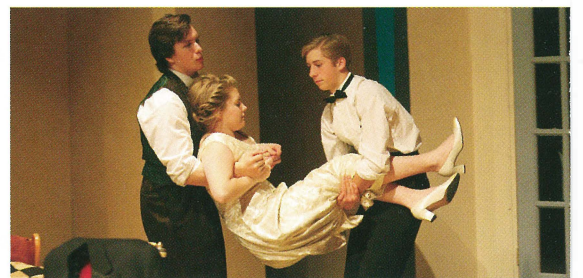

Carnival - February 3-5

Day 3:
The duct tape challenge and inter-house tug of war battle keep the friendly competition alive right up until the end of the week.

After 3 fun-filled days, Carnival wraps for the year and students depart for a well-deserved long weekend.

Duke of Edinburgh Awards

This year, the Lieutenant Governor of Quebec joined us to present the Duke of Edinburgh's Award program medals. This award program, open to participants between the ages of 14 and 25, was created by Prince Philip in 1956 and has three levels: gold, silver, and bronze. It is a non-competitive program that allows the students to set and achieve personal goals.

At BCS, all students participate in the program as soon as they become eligible. Our school community is active and our varied activities help students to achieve one or more requirements. This year, we celebrated 75 students for completing their bronze level, another 27 who finished their silver and two who achieved their gold medals!

Congratulations to our Gold Medal recipients:
Joshua Bray and Jiayue Zhu!

Round Square

"Discovering the world and making a world of difference."

This year, the BCS Round Square Committee shared the ideals and vision of Round Square with the rest of our school community through international food days, country presentations in morning assembly, Tuesday cultural talks, the Go Green Team, and an international bazaar day.

2014-2015 was a busy year for our Round Square Committee. We are proud of their participation in the following initiatives:

Round Square is a huge part of our life at BCS. Each year, this diverse program offers students the opportunity to build skills, explore the world and help others through service projects, school exchanges and international conferences.

Brendan Barritt

No set words can single handedly describe the amount of respect and love I have for Bishop's College School. BCS has been my home for the past 18 years and continues to be today. I have a rich history with the school and have left a solid legacy. I've treated the school the way I wanted it to treat me. I played hard, worked hard and in return, was given a miraculous education and a strong set of athletic skills. I owe my heart and soul to this school, it has quite literally made me who I am today.

Being a lifer for many is a task in itself, most people stay for one to four years at best, but six years is quite the accomplishment. For me though, it has been a different story. Because I am a teacher's kid, or as many call it, a school brat, I have been a lifer a full three times. Having already lived on campus for 12 years, another six was no real task but yet more of a chance to grow. BCS welcomed me into their arms as a first year high schooler by providing me with countless opportunities. I loved taking advantage of all we have at BCS - sports, drama, extracurricular activities and dances to name a few. These opportunities created my foundation at BCS. Of course my academics were my 'first' priority, but it was the athletics and activities that really made my stay at BCS memorable. From the six sports I played, Drama, Wardens, House Captain, Dining Hall Committee, Round Square, NCO, Band, Head of House, and Prefect, I learned many life skills. For example, how to play fair, how to work together, how to build up from loses, and most of all, to always have fun. Of course my academics were fun, I enjoyed the small classes and the one-on -one help teachers provided. It was nice to know that when I walked into a classroom I was getting full attention from the best teachers I could ask for. There is no doubt about this for all my teachers, from Form II to Form VII. The greatest amount of thanks goes to my parents who have been there alongside me all through my journey, there is not enough love in the world that I could express towards my parents for sending me to BCS.

Six years wow... It wasn't really until this moment while writing this paper that I realized how special these past six years have been. All the people I've seen come and go is sad but at the same time, the chances I've had to meet new people was great. For all of you that read this, I thank you, whether I know you or not. Please, if there is one thing I want you to know is that no matter how boring or annoying the school can be at times, just realize how lucky you are. You truly will not find a better high school on earth. Most importantly take all you can from the school because it will give so much back in the long run.

BCS has done more than I could ever do for anyone, it has provided me a home, an education and everything I need to know to prepare me for life. These past six years have been the best six years my life I hope the next 60 will be 10 times as great but it will be hard to top life at BCS.

Form II was all about getting into the groove of BCS life, getting used to boarding school, making new friends and doing crease every day after class. I had my first and last shot at basketball and my first mountain day. I was lucky to have Monica as my house mom and was part of the last year of Williams Girls. It couldn't have been a better first year at BCS.

Form III came along and I was slowly growing up. Williams closing meant moving to the 'big girl' house, Glass became my new home and Jessica my roommate for the following four years. I was the youngest member of the adventure training crew which became an annual 'must-do' crease for me and the outdoors will continue to be something I love for the rest of my life. This was the first year I stepped into my soon-to-become favourite science/bio teacher's class. I also worked backstage for the theatre production of "Anne Frank", a very fun experience.

Form IV brought many new adventures, my Round Square exchange to Australia was what the year was all about. At the end of the summer my exchange, Sam, arrived and joined the BCS community. Just after Christmas I headed off to the land down under and spend four months at a school in Bunbury. I ate Kangaroo, learned to surf, got my Advance Open Water diving certification, went on Outward Bound in the outback, dove with sharks and perfected the Aussie lingo.

Form V was the year I was a member of the Carnival Committee. It was awesome: snow sports, bright red jumpsuits, costumes, good food, ice dancing and lots of house spirit. I helped start BCS's first CRC Robotics team, taking photographs, helping with organizing and animating the kiosk during the competition.

Form VI: what a year. I was head of Dining Hall Committee, Head of Round Square, a Warden, House Captain and a member of the Robotics team. I spent most of the fall preparing for my Service Project in Cambodia, a 3 week adventure over Christmas. I helped construct an accommodation building for teachers, maintained a community garden, ate ants and tarantulas, met amazing people from everywhere, and came home with a better understanding of the world.

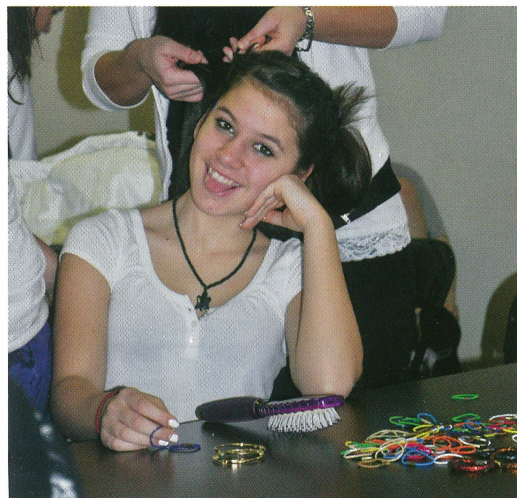

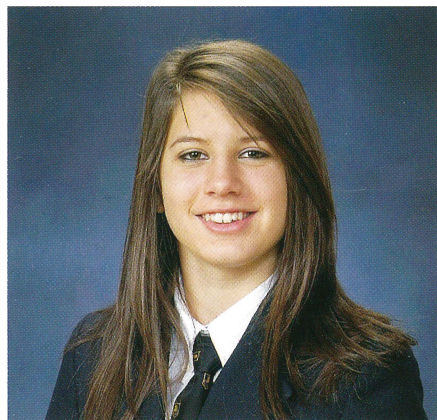

Form VII, my final year. I grew the most this year as a person. As Head Prefect I developed my leadership style and really learned the most about myself. I have much thanks to give to my incredible fellow prefects, who were great co-workers and friends. To the prefects, my teachers, house staff and close friends: I thank you for the positive impact you made on my life this year. I'll never forget the amazing adventures and memories I made at BCS, they shaped the person I am today and will help me continue to grow in the future.

Being a Lifer, I wasn't only part of BCS for six years, but BCS will forever be part of me.

Graduation

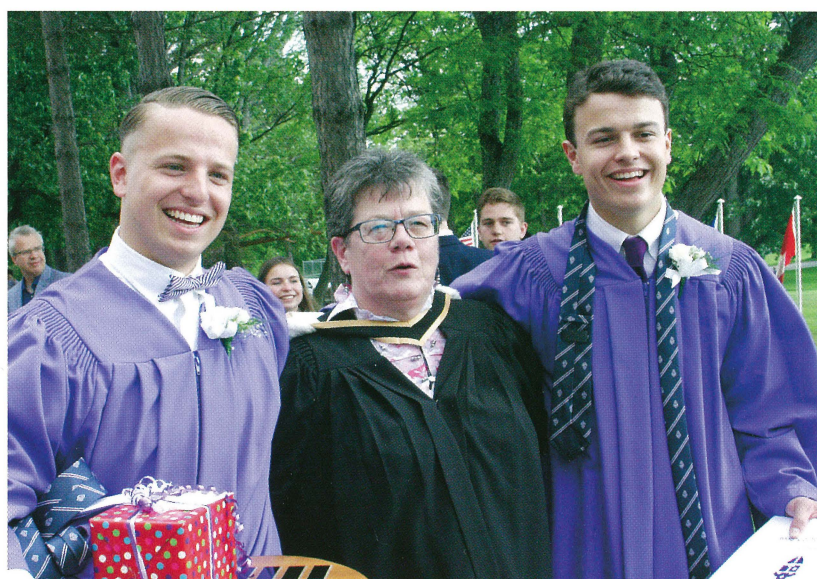

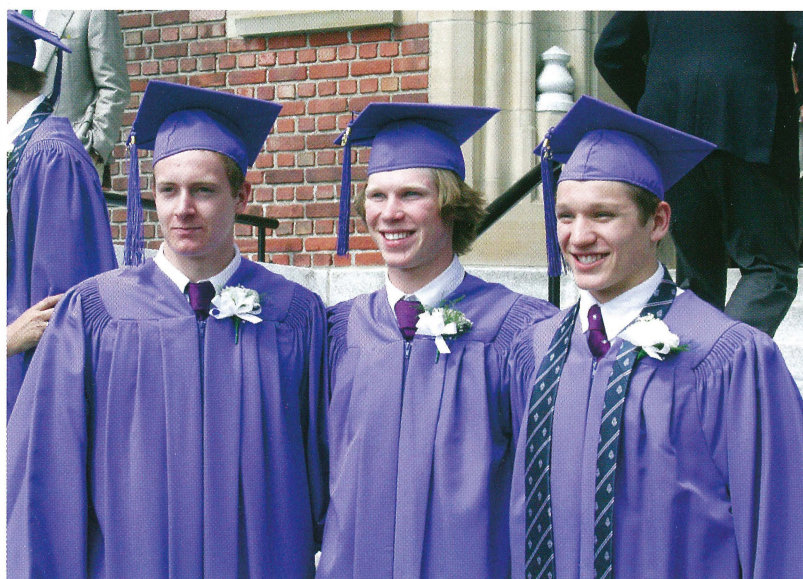

"From the first day of school to our graduation ceremony, we have all conquered every challenge that has come our way to the point where we should be proud to call ourselves graduates...."

"[...] imagine life as a roller coaster. It's a lot of fun and equally terrifying, [...] Our entire lives we've been gradually climbing slowly up, towards the drop. And today, the day we graduate we're at the tipping point, the part of the roller coaster where we get that nervous and excited feeling in our stomach anticipating what's about to happen. [...] Remember, the most important part is the feeling in your stomach, that feeling of utter terror and excitement, remember it and cherish it, for it is something that you don't get to feel so intensely many times in your life"

-Rosemarie (Romy) Zeitlinger, your Valedictorian

Message From the Past

My dear Girls:

It seems strange that after all these years I should still find it so much more difficult to write to you than to talk to you, but such is the case. There are so many things I should like to bring before you but alas! time and space are limited. So, after much thought, I have decided upon an old theme - "The Hundred-Point" man or woman.

A banker was once asked to report on the sense of responsibility of a certain person. The answer came back, thus, "He is a Hundred-Point man in everything and anything he undertakes." Of how many of us can it be truly said we are "Hundred-Point" person? Unfortunately, such people are not plentiful.

Let us stop to consider what would be some of the outstanding qualities of a "Hundred-Point" person. I think you will agree with one writer who says they are these. "A 'Hundred-Point' person is one who is true to every trust, who keeps his word; who is loyal to his group; who does not listen for insults or look for slights; who is moderate in his eating and drinking; who is cautious and yet courageous." I should like to add to these - one who is courteous; who is considerate; who is gracious and serene; who is too big to be petty.

"Hundred-Point" people vary much in ability; they may be rich or poor. But this is always true - they are safe to deal with whether they are bank presidents or truck drivers.

So let me plead with you all, but particularly with those who are about to step out into a broader life, no matter what letters you may in future have the right to place after your names, try to live so that one day you will be worthy of the greatest of all distinctions - the degree of H.P. - "Hundred Point".

Yours affectionately,

Adelaine E. Gillard

Dr. Adelaine E. Gillard

Miss Gillard began her long teaching career at the age of seventeen in a one-room school house in the Prairies. After attending university and receiving her Bachelors of Arts, she taught at St-Clements School for girls until 1930.

In 1930, Miss Gillard became the Head Mistress of King's Hall Compton. She remained Head Mistress for 38 years, when she finally retired in 1968.

Miss Gillard received the Order of Scholastic Merit in 1967, in recognition of the devotion, dignity and distinction with which she has served the cause of education.
